Chapter 1 – One End

Age 25 this year, the name is Satou Yuuma, a NEET shut-in of the highest praise.

“It’s 7 years since dropping out of college, I don’t really do anything other earnestly devoting myself to online games... But I’m feeling a crisis these days; it’s become impossible to buy items! It’s understood by those who play online games that those who don’t buy items don’t do too well. I’ve been making do with the spending money given by my parents but it’s getting more and more severe! But me being a shut-in NEET, doesn’t have the shameless personality necessary to ask my parents to increase the spending money. Well, I guess I’m already shameless being a NEET... The means which is left..., its part-time work is it... Okay, it’s decided, I’ll go look for part time work! But, I’ve been talking to myself a lot recently, is it because I’ve stayed indoors for many years...”

Not working since I was born, I’ve somehow become this way this time... The following day I leave the house in high spirits, my mother has her eyes open wide from surprise looking this way, but I ignore it... I’ll first go to the bookstore which is in walking distance by going along the main road.

With the inside of my heading being nothing other than online items, there was completely no caution. It was at that time!

A heavy duty truck was making its way at high speed.

Crap! I’d rather it be a normal car but if it’s such a large truck I’ll certainly die when hit!

I try to avoid it in a hurry, but the body of someone who just stays inside doesn’t have that sort of agility.

When becoming aware, the truck was right in before of his eyes.

“Ah... I’m dea...”

The end of my life came really quickly.

Chapter 2 – God

...Huh?

My eyes open and the surroundings is a pure white space.

“I’m certain, left home, then a truck while going to look work...”

Died being run over by a truck.

“That’s right! I was run over by a truck and should have died!”

Even so, where am I... this doesn’t look or feel like an ordinary place, but it doesn’t seem to be heaven either. I confirm my own body. It’s the same clothes from before I died. There’s no place which is especially painful or even injuries at that.

While doing such a thing, there was suddenly a voice which couldn’t be judged whether it’s male or female.

“Hey, you seem to have woken up safely. Well, it can’t easily be called safely~.”

An androgynous appearance, more than that,
I’m sure this person was here when I checked the surrounding earlier...

“Oh, you seem to be confused eh, guess it can’t be helped to look so when dying for the first time~.”

It seems settled that I was run over by the truck and died, or perhaps I didn’t want to believe in my heart that I’d died. Apart from that, I’m interested in this person true identity. Mustering up courage, I decide to ask.

“Um, so who are you?”

The answer to that question came back at once.

“My name is Rasty, I’m what’s known as God in you people’s world~”

Chapter 3 – Transfer

...God, there wasn't much wonder and astonishment.

"Hey, it's abnormal to just suddenly believe so~, normally you'd be suspicious when someone says they're God right~."

Though I agree it to be suspicious, I certainly died, I don't know if here is the world after death, but it can be reasoned that a person in such a place can't be an ordinary person. So I thought.

"Aaah, by the way, here isn't the world after death. It's sort of like the threshold of life and death, eh."

The threshold of life and death? Then am I dead, or am I alive?"

"You'll die as its going. I just thought it to be a little wasteful to die as it is. So I wanted to talk for a little~."

Wasteful to die like this? If I had to speak of myself, there are no particular strong points, I'm merely your common NEET. So for this me dying like this to be wasteful...

"It seems you haven't noticed, but you're actually rich with abundant talent~, so how about you give an agreeable other word a try?"

I have abundant talent? It's entirely something I haven't thought in my heart. Wait, more than that, there was also another world, I wonder if it's like those game worlds from light novels...

"It is such a thing~. Special power will be given, so how about it, want to give it a go?"

Special power, if it's what it seems, it sounds fine. If it's like an online game, it's special power when compared to other people, a power which the people don't have, I'm honestly attracted to it...

"By the way, since it's not reincarnation, you'll go in with your current form as it is now~"

So it's a transfer, I honestly want to go.

“Excuse me, what will happen if I decline?”

God answers while smiling cheerfully.

“You’ll die as you are~”

The answer was decided on, I don’t want to die yet!

“I’ll go to the other world, is what I say.”

God laughs satisfyingly as a reply to my answer.

“That’s good~. Then I’ll send you now~”

And so my consciousness is fading away. Before it’s gone, God’s voice was caught by my ear.

“See you then~, I wish you happiness in this next life~”

And so the new life began

Arc 1: Faris Forest

Chapter 4 – Status

...Consciousness wakes up little by little.

Satou Yuuma came to his senses.

What was seen first when waking up, trees trees trees.

The surroundings are trees and overgrown grass, in other words.

“This is a forest... I’m inside a forest.”

So I died being run over by a truck, met God, and transferred.

Unbelievable, was that really God?”

I pinch my cheeks at once, owowowowouch yeah, that hurts, seems this isn’t a dream.

So this is the other world that God talked of, as far as can be seen it’s not that different from the former world.”

Confirming the situation for the time being, there aren’t any abnormalities with my body, there’s no change with my clothes. The only thing I had on me was my wallet, now then...

“Which reminds me, God said I was given a special power, I guess I should try and check it. If it’s a game, it would usually be something like status.”

At that moment, characters appeared in front of my eyes.

Chapter 5 – Confirmation

...Okay, calm down a bit, let's look at the status for now.

First of all, HP 40 and MP 35, whether this is low or high isn't understood.

Next is Power, Endurance, Speed and Luck.

Power and Endurance 5, this probably isn't high, for me who stays indoors merely playing games I wouldn't have much Power and Endurance.

Next is Speed, it's lower than Power and Endurance at 2, it's a bit of a shock but there's no helping it. Staying indoors naturally means that how much I run and walk has greatly decreased.

Then there's Luck. How's it 20? It's 4 times Power and Endurance! If I honestly had this Luck then I don't think I'd be run over by a truck, well, I guess it's because of that, that I was able to be transferred by God.

Next is Skills.

{Experience x20}

Experience acquired when killing monsters is multiplied by 20.

{Skill Experience x20}

Skill growth when used is multiplied by 20.

{Appraisal level 10}

Other party's status can be seen completely, but it cannot be seen when the level difference is too high.

{Sign Isolation level 7}

Signs of you can be completely erased, but if the level difference is too high the effect might not be demonstrated.

Indeed, these skills seem to be useful.

Experience x20 and Skill Experience x20 can be used to strengthen quickly. It's unknown whether this world is safe or not so it's better to strengthen as much as possible.

Next is Appraisal, this is a considerably useful skill.

If an opponent's status can be seen before a fight then the difficulty of the fight changes entirely.

The possibility to survive goes up a lot with this,

It can't be helped if I can't see if there's a high level difference.

On the other hand, if there's another party whose status can't be seen, I know to be vigilant of them.

Then there's Sign Isolation, this is undisputedly useful. It's a skill usable for both attacking and escaping, being able to get behind a foe without being noticed, that's cool.

The possibility of the effect not working when there's a level difference can't be helped.

Finally, there are the Titles.

{Otherworlder}

Came from another world, for better or worse, this will have numerous effects on the world.

{Shut-in}

A person who spent many years in solitude, not being concerned with anybody, not being noticed by anybody, a person who only guarded their own space.

Otherworlder is the same as expected. There's a bit of unease over the effect for better or worse.

The problem is Shut-in, why does this sound so cool!

It's just being a shut-in... just a shut-in...

Chapter 6 – First Battle

“...Now then, confirming the status is done for now.”

I thought about what to do next, it's difficult to say if it's safe here inside the forest.

Let's first leave the forest. The moment I thought so and intended to start walking, something appeared in the corner of my vision.

I caught sight of something which is like the rabbits from my former world.

“It's a rabbit, so this world has something like that.”

I want to pat its head for a bit, the moment I thought so and extended my hand.

“Gauuuu.”

“Eh...”

It suddenly opened its mouth and tried to bite my hand with its large fangs.

“Th-this guy...!”

I drew my arm back using all my power and managed to avoid it somehow.

“It's like that! This is another world, what am I doing!”

I get irritated over the over-optimism of my thoughts, I calmly think about the method to survive, first of all.

“Appraise!”

Crap, Power and Luck is higher with me but it's a loss with Endurance and Speed, the difference in Speed is especially bad.

I guess this monster called a rabbit won't let me get away while it glares and is showing its fangs.

"I guess it's natural to not leave me..."

What to do, what should I do, what to do.

I fell into fear from my first life and death fight.

No weapon, the only thing I have is a wallet.

There's no attack skill I can use, so how.

The instant while thinking those things, the Rabbit sprung with its mouth wide open.

"Gagagauuu."

I frantically try to avoid but its speed is higher, and a part of my thigh is grazed.

"Guaaaaaaaaa."

I yelled from too much pain, it's inevitable; I was a shut in from a peaceful world. I've had little in the count of injuries and the like, I'm not accustomed to pain.

"Haa... hn."

Crap, the next one can't be avoided with this leg!!

This monster won't miss with such a chance.

The rabbit opens its mouth wide again and prepares to jump.

"Gaaaaaaaaa."

No good, this can't be avoided!!

Is this the end... this is the precious second life.

There's no way! I'll live!

The rabbit is already about to come!

All-or-nothing!

“Sign Isolation!!!”

The skill name I remembered was shouted with all my might,
the rabbit halts as if time has stopped.

“Gau? Gauu?”

It began to look around restlessly, perplexed that the prey from just now is gone, the rabbit left afterwards as if nothing had happened.

“...I’m saved.”

Chapter 7 – Forest

...The danger has passed for now, I guess its fine to think so.

“Buhaaaaaaa.”

I stopped breathing while using Sign Isolation.

Breathing in the air after being released from a crisis is the best.

“Though I was dead...”

I’m saved for the time being.

“It’s the favor of this skill.”

Sign Isolation, I didn’t think the skill will be so effective.

“To not be noticed at that distance, furthermore, it was an animal. I guess even the smell was cut off, if that’s so...”

It’s a surprisingly cheat skill; it could roughly be unrivaled depending on how it’s used.

The weak point is being noticed due to level, but it disappears if I raise my level.

“That’s right, the skill is sure to have used MP.”

My status will be confirmed for now.

“Status!”

“Hmm, it decreased by 20. Sign Isolation was used for about 20 seconds, so the consumption is 1 MP per second.”

I can probably assume there won’t be problems in the future with this consumption.

My current maximum MP at level 1 is only 35.

So Sign Isolation can be held for 35 seconds at most.

“This is... severe.”

It's better to raise my level quickly.

It should rise easily with Experience x20.

There's still room with my MP, so Sign Isolation can still be used.

The problem, “No weapon...”

Even if it's possible to get behind with Sign Isolation,
I can't kill it without a weapon.

To fight unarmed with 15 MP, not being able to kill it in 15 seconds means I'm out.

There's various things to think about.

“Let's leave here first. That guy may come back here
I want to leave the forest but I first have to find a hidden place before its night.”

I began to walk looking at the surroundings.
The forest at night is certain to be dangerous.

As expected, I came to be hungry after walking for a while.

“Yeah, I'm getting hungry from walking after that fight without resting.
Having said that, there's nothing to eat.

N, what's that... an apple? But the color's different.”

In front of my eyes are purple apples growing in splendid numbers.

“This seems tasty. No, this is a different world, prior experience is unreliable, it should've been understood with the rabbit from some time ago. Perhaps this is poison. But I want to eat... there's a good means.”

I hit on a good idea!

“Isn't Appraisal usable. Appraisal!”

{Papugo}

A fruit which grows in the vicinity of the entrance to Faris Forest.

It's highly delicious and is eaten by many.

There's no poison.

"Ooh, then let's eat!"

I bit into the papugo as soon as it was understood to be edible.

"Tastyyyyyyyy! It looks like an apple but the taste is like grapes! The sweetness flows in my mouth when biting! This guy's good."

Uo, it's already gone. But there's still many more papugos!

"I don't know when I can eat next if not ear, so I only have to eat and eat."

I kept eating while keeping the minimum vigilance to the surroundings.

"Fuu, My stomach's almost full! Furthermore, I'm feeling energetic!"

I opened my status while thinking it to be odd Satou Yuuma level 1

This is a gain since I was thinking I could only recover while resting.

"Okay, I only have to take some of these. They're not that heavy either, and Sign Isolation only has to be used when encountering a monster!"

"My stomach's swelling and I need to find a place to hide myself!"

I restarted my look for a hideout while my heart is excited from this unexpected find.

Chapter 8 – Cave

A cave like place was found after walking for a while.

“Ooh, this can be protection from the rain, I think I’ll be safe here to some degree!”

The cave had a considerable area, the back of the interior hasn’t been seen, but it seems there’s space for at least several tens of people.

“This cave’s quite spacious, should I go a little deeper in... there might be something useful.”

I advance towards the depths like that, of course there’s the likelihood of there being a monster, so I advance carefully while intending to use Sign Isolation.

While going forward like that I came across a wide spot.

“Uo, there’s suddenly such a large space, this is the end of the cave. N? Is this the traces of a fire? Someone who was here before made a fire here.”

A fire in a cave, while thinking so I look for something usable.

“Hmm, there’s no remaining wood which can be used for a fire... N?”

Is that possibly a knife?”

“Ooh, to get a weapon in such a place! As expected of Luck 20! But this knife looks a little tattered, well, it was thrown away. First of all, Appraise!”

{Worn-out knife}

A worn-out knife. A result of being negligently used for many years.

“Hmm. There’s still some uneasiness remaining, but I’ve got a weapon for now!”

With this I’ll no longer just be attacked one-sidedly by monsters and escape.

“Now then, I’ve got something good so should I go back for now.”

I returned the way I came and was able to return to the cave’s entrance a few minutes after starting to walk.

“But first, I’ve become a bit hungry.”

I hold one papugo from what I was carrying.

The papugo isn’t that large, and was quickly finished being eaten.

“Hmm, tastes good after all. I personally do like apples and grapes. Okay then, how’s the status looking.”

However, if it’s like this, I want to raise my level soon.

A weapon, even if it’s a little ugly, has been obtained.

There’s one thing to be done...

“That false rabbit... revenge!”

Chapter 9 – Revenge

Appraisal has been changed to Judgment

Now then, revenge is fine but the rabbit also known as false rabbit must be found as it can't be done. I'll approach unnoticed in the Sign Isolation state, and killing it in one blow is the best.

"My remaining MP is 32, in other words, my time is 32 seconds... just to be sure I put two papugos in my pocket. It can be there for when they're needed.

"Okay, I'll go search without delay."

With only 2 papugo left behind, I exit the cave.

"Should I first try looking where papugo can be found, there might be rabbit traces."

I decided to go along the path I originally walked.

Walking for a short while, I arrived at the spot where the papugos are. But the state is slightly different than when I passed through here a little while ago.

There's eaten on papugo on the ground.

"This is a trace of it being eaten on. And fang marks at that."

There's no doubt! This is a feeding ground for the rabbits...

"Yeah! In that case, there's one thing to be done, I'll ambush here!"

In the surroundings is a spot concealed by grass and trees. It's just right for hiding!

"I'll be doing it here."

There's a spot to hide safely. I only have to wait for that rabbit to come here.

I start hiding for tens of minutes, with grass in front of my eyes, rustle rustle, a sound is heard.

"It came!"

And appearing was that hated rabbit, but it's a little different.

“It seems a bit smaller than the one which attacked me. I’ll judge it first.

“That’s fortunate, seems easy in this case doesn’t it. Now’s the chance.”

The hunting begins.

“Sign Isolation, okay... and go.”

I went out from the grass trying as much as possible not to make a sound, well, even if sound does project that rabbit can’t see me.

I carefully walk behind the rabbit.

And at last I arrived right behind it.

The rabbit is still crazily eating the papugo, good!

Lifting the knife I had, I pierce the rabbit’s neck with all my strength.

“Giiiiii!!”

A large scream is let out, the rabbit died immediately afterwards...

“Haahaa, I did it, I did iiiiiiit.”

It was certain to be dangerous shouting like that in the forest but something like that was forgotten at that time.

“I did it, I did iiiiit.”

This was the first time in my years of life to kill a creature of this size, there weren't any strange and pitiable feeling of that kind.

Both HP and MP have exceeded 50, so the right is the maximum value and the left is the current value. It seems like it restores completely on level up. It really is like a game.

Power and Endurance have progressed favorably, Speed is lacking by comparison, Luck is progressing tremendously. Luckily I was able to find a rabbit this time, perhaps Luck is amazingly important.

The skills... heh, there's a new skill.

Dagger Technique, it's probably a skill gotten when the knife was used a little bit ago.

Sign Isolation is still 7, I look forward to what could it become at 8, though it seems the skill level is difficult to raise when it's so high.

There're no title changes, though it's expected for titles to not be easily acquired.”

Okay then, the status check has finished.

“Then there’s this rabbit. I’ll take it back and hold onto it for emergency food.”

The objection was achieved for the time being.

“Good, back to the cave...”

I’ll just eat a parrot before returning...

Chapter 10 – Magic

...Walking for tens of minutes, I came back to the cave base with my heart excited from my first monster subjugation, it's already started to darken outside. But something feels weird...

"Nn? ...I should be tired from walking such a distance... But now that I've returned there's hardly any tiredness... Is this the effect of the level going up, HP... no... likely the rise in Endurance. For it to have such an influence, this is a pleasant miscalculation, it's better to have some Endurance in a forest like this."

I thought if I should hunt more if it's like this, but I can't be careless. There's the possibility that the rabbits appear in a group, there might even be a monster stronger than rabbits in the surroundings. This is another world, I can't survive if I'm not careful.

"Alright, it's getting dark outside now, I'll spend tonight in this cave, it should be fine.

There's no evidence of papugo being eaten here, so monsters shouldn't come near this cave!

I can rest peacefully with this."

I came to be hungry as soon as I felt relieved.

"Fuu, eating papugo like this without an actual meal doesn't really fill my stomach, for now the papugo I picked up was put with what I had for six in total, then there's... this rabbit."

This rabbit is a problem, I've lived in a peaceful world, furthermore as a shut-in, naturally there's no survival experience and not even cooking has been done, in other words...

"Yeeah, this rabbit... how should this be eaten..."

At least it can't be eaten in this condition! Though there were some meats that can be eaten raw in my world,

I'll absolutely fall ill from this guy, I could possibly even die if... on the other hand, I don't understand how to make a fire, it'd be easy if there was a lighter... well, nothing to be done.

"Mmm... it'd be easy if magic like in a game could be used, how would you say... like this... fireball! Aah."

That moment, a fireball about the size of a baseball was floating on my palm.

"Uooo, what's this, close close!
My hand! It'll burn... Nn?"

It's... not hot...?
What the hell... it's really not hot,
Am I not affected since it's my own magic... I don't understand, not for now.

"So then... what to do with this..."

If it continues like this indefinitely it'll be a nuisance, I imagine it flying straight towards the cave's wall.

"Fireball!"

The fireball flies out straight from my palm to the cave wall, an admirable strike, the fireball explodes and scatters, leaving a little scorch mark on the cave's wall.

"Ooh, the power's quite high! Seems this can be used when fighting!
Then... let's use this to burn the rabbit...
I can only see a future where this rabbit is burned black...
Maybe the power can be adjusted, oops, the status should be seen first.
The fireball is magic by all respects, it should be know how much the MP decreased, status!"

But this was lucky... by chance being able to use magic, might I not be able to use other magic like this, I'll do experiments but it's already late today, and MP has decreased.

“Okay... sleep...”

Chapter 11 – Growth

“...N, fa.”

Next morning, it was already light outside the cave when I woke up.

“I slept well... to be able to sleep so soundly on the first day in another world...

was fatigue piled up... or did I have such a bold personality.”

The tiredness seems to have gone after a good sleep, next time I should confirm how much is recovered when MP is close to 0 when sleeping,

it won’t be used to 0 since what will happen isn’t understood.

“Okay, let’s have breakfast first, I still have some papugo left from what I was eating yesterday, let’s make it breakfast.”

It was finished being eaten in few minutes.

“This much is insufficient after all, I should go there and get some more, while I’m at it I’ll do a little rabbit hunting, supposing there’s a large quantity of rabbits, or a monster I can’t handle appears, let’s get away with all my effort...
There’s hopefully no monster that can’t be escaped if Sign Isolation is used.”

The preparations have been settled.

Well, the preparations are really just taking the knife...

“Okay, let’s go.”

Like that, I began walking on the same path as yesterday.

And after a while I arrived at yesterday’s spot.

“Fuu... I’m not tired from yesterday after all... levels are great, and this is just from one rabbit being subjugated.

Well, I do have Experience x20 so it’s like subjugating 20 of them.”

I hid in the grass the same way as yesterday.

“Looking like this, my combat style is absolutely not like a warrior, I think it’s more like an assassin or hitman...”

Time passes for a short while, a rabbit appeared in front of me. It’s larger than the one I killed yesterday but smaller than the first one, the status was first seen to be level 2, the same as the one from yesterday.

“Hmm... I’ll get this guy... let’s go.”

In a low voice, “Sign Isolation” is said and the skill is invoked.

I approach behind the rabbit in the same way as yesterday.

And the knife was stabbed into the neck from behind.

“Gii...”

The rabbit let out a small voice and died.

“Okay... success...”

The effect of the level rising has appeared here.

“Fu... I was able to kill it without putting in strength thanks to the rise in my Power.

There was the sense that my hand has become more accustomed to using the knife from yesterday, perhaps it’s the effect of the Dagger Technique skill... a convenient thing.”

Now then, what to do with the rabbitt’s body, this guy can be left in the cave with the other one, or maybe I just throw it around here. Times like this an item box could be made use of,
but as expected, it won’t be so convenient...

{Item Box level 1 was acquired}

.....I did it!

Chapter 12 – Item Box

“Is Item Box a skill which can be so easily grasped...”

The doubt gushes forth but the skill must first be confirmed, perhaps it's not the skill I'm thinking of.

“First of all, status open!”

{Item Box level 1}

A skill where various things can be stored.

As a general rule, living things cannot be stored, however when those living things are already dead, they can be stored without a problem.

The storage capacity is proportional to MP, additionally, when Item Box's level goes up the capacity will increase.

“Yeah... it's definitely a useful skill,

Though living things can't be stored but something like the rabbit which I killed can enter without a problem.

Capacity... hmmhmm... it's decided by MP and it also increases with the level of Item Box.

The present capacity is on my mind, there's a lot of papugos here, let's do a bit of checking.”

For the time being, I'll use papugo as my standard for measuring.

“Now that's it's decided... Item Box!”

A box the size of a soccer ball appeared before me.

“So this is the Item Box, not much seems to fit in just looking at its appearance, I'll put them in for now.”

When thinking to put one papugo in as a test, it disappeared inside the box as if sucked in.

“Ooh!”

I was a little surprised there was no change to the box, if it's so, then I'll put the papugos in one by one.

"Oh, it enters rapidly,
so the capacity isn't in accordance with the box's appearance, then I'll keep putting them in."

I continue to put papugos one after another until the number exceeds fifty.

"I guess it's expected for this to be the limit, it's become more difficult to put more in.

It's been 56 papugos entered in so far, with my max MP being 60, it can be thought as one piece per 1 MP. I honestly didn't expect it would take this many, I was thinking approximately 10–20 would have been a good result. Furthermore, the capacity will keep increasing as my MP rises with my level and Item Box's level goes up, this is good!"

With just this, the papugos will last for the time being, should I put the rabbit killed earlier in, living things can't be entered, but this no-longer breathing rabbit should be fine!

It's made to be put into the Item Box the same way as the papugo, and it disappeared being sucked in.

"Seems to have gone in with no problem, along with this, there's capacity left for 2–3 papugos, now then, the verification has ended, let put this away."

The Item Box was released.

"Oh, it disappeared, perhaps skills can be released with just thinking so, maybe Sign Isolation can be invoked by thinking in my mind, it's convenient if that's the case!"

Okay then, it's finished, so what to do now?

"The space in the Item Box is 2–3 pieces, and my MP was completely recovered when I leveled up some time ago giving me room on what to do..."
Alright! I hunt another 2–3 rabbits!

I should be able to safely kill them as I've done up to now!

Even if a crowd or a strong monster appears I have Sign Isolation, there's no problem! ...It should be.

With that thought, I enter the shadows of the grass without delay and hold my breath waiting for the prey to come.

...A few hours later.

I safely came back to the cave,
in conclusion, the rabbits were successfully killed,
it wasn't tense like it was in the beginning,
as if it's work, I killed... then I killed...
Stretching before my eyes were the bodies of dozens of rabbits.

"This is... I did too much~"

Chapter 13 – Results

In front of me are the corpses of tens of rabbits.

Just a little... I want to give an explanation.

I really did intend to kill 2–3 of them then go on,
it was an MP issue and as well as the Item Box's capacity,
but after hunting for tens of minutes,
far from my MP decreasing... it was increasing!
That's also natural with my Experience x20 skill,
Normally the level won't rise just from killing one of them, but I was rising one level by killing one of them.
And as the level goes up, my MP increases and is completely restored, so naturally Item Box's capacity increases as well, in other words, there was still more to be done! I can still go at it if the level can be raised, I'm of the faction that only wants to raise levels in games!
So it became such where I got into the rhythm of continuing to hunt rabbits with this result!

"This... what to do with this large amount of rabbits."

There's around 30 of them,
even so, all the corpses here... it's quite... something...

Enough of that.

"Oh well! The level goes up, Item Box's capacity goes up, there's still some space after putting all these rabbits in!
Or rather, there's a large amount of space remaining! No problem no problem!"

And then the most important thing.

"Fufufu... now then, how much did my level go uuuup, though as expected, in the later half, my level wasn't going up by killing one rabbit,
it's proportional to its rising!
Okay then, staaaaatus oooopen!"

“Eeeeeeeexcessive risiiiiing, awesome awesome, my level reached double digits in one go, it’s 24!!!!
HP and MP tripled all at once!!
Power and Endurance have exceeded 70! Speed is still a bit low but it’s at 48!
Luck is just as usual... it’s different at 158 with an extra digit...
Skills... ooh, Sign Isolation is level 8!
Frankly, I don’t understand what has changed from 7 to 8, but going up is good!
Dagger Technique has also gone up from level 2 to 3!
My main weapon is determined to be a knife!
Erase my presence, stab with a knife... fufu, I don’t know why but I’m shivering,
Changes in titles... hn?
It’s increased with Rabitt Hunter,
It’s likely to be gotten when a certain number are killed and obtained, well, it increasing is good.”

To be honest, I didn’t think it was possible to strengthen up to here, I can already fight directly with rabiits, even killing them comfortably if attacked by several of them.

“It’s a great harvest, and there’s still a lot of papugos in the Item Box. Some liquid comes from the papugos so currently there’s no worry for my livelihood.

I collected a lot of grass from the ground in the forest so a simple bed can be made,

moreover, monsters haven’t come to this cave up till now!

Eh... my livelihood here is considerably fine...

this cave is fine when thinking like that... if I could seal this place up...”

My stomach rumbled while thinking of such a thing.

“That reminds me, I haven’t eaten for a long time since the combat and coming back to the cave... should I eat papugos, but I’m honestly getting tired of eating it every time, it might be luxurious, but sometimes you want to eat something like meat or fish.”

N... ? Which reminds me...

There’re traces of an open fire in the depths of the cave, there’s a lot of grass and wood in my box, there’s also rabiits in front of me for meat, Fire Magic is the one I can use, and my MP is huge thanks to leveling up.

In other words...

“I’ll eat... rabbitt.”

Chapter 14 – Meat

Now then...

Though I decided to eat rabbit, there's first some things to be done.

"A fire must first be lit, as expected, I don't have the courage to eat this raw."

First of all, I'll walk to the spot in the cave with the traces of a fire, there's quite some space there, and it seems I can make a fire in the cave there, probably...

I walked into the depths like that.

"Okay... here I am..."

And so I take a large amount of wood and leaves out from the Item Box.

"Alright, that's enough... now it's preparation.
As I saw on TV before, spread a lot of leaves,
next is thin branches, then medium branches,
and finally the thick branches.
Like this, it should be easier for it to burn,
if my memory is correct..."

It was said that the wood's orientation is important, but I don't remember the details to that extent.

Alright, the preparations are complete with this, now to ignite it.

"Fire huh, I used fireball last time, the power was too strong and would just burn it all black,
can it be adjusted... well, let's try then!"

The previous fireball was around the size of a baseball, first is that power... smaller and smaller,
so that the wood is only burnt... then the imagined size,
the size of a pachinko ball seems okay,
alright... the image has come together.

“Let’s go! Fireball.”

An extremely small fireball appears from my palm, looking good!
It might be possible with this, it won’t just burn everything.
Next, the fireball is slowly and gently brought closer to the vegetation for the fire, slowly... slowly... it only needs to catch fire a little.

And

It spread splendidly!

“Alright! Success!”

Since there’s no more business with the pachinko ball sized fireball by my palm, I firmly crushed it, I don’t feel the heat after all.

“Now the fire must be prevented from going out!”

The small fire might be in danger of going out with a little wind, but this is a cave, moreover it’s quite far away from the entrance, so there’s little need to worry about the wind getting in here.

“I’ll strengthen the fire a bit.”

On the other hand, when the fire is stable wind is needed,
I frantically fan with my hand.

After a few minutes the fire began to circulate! There’s piece of mind with this.

“Okay! I put more wood on when the fire starts to weaken!”

Next is the food’s preparation.

“I’ll take a rabbit out from the Item Box.”

Normally it would have to be finely dismantled, pierced with a branch and slowly roasted, but I naturally haven’t dismantled an animal,
in that case, there’s one method...

“I can’t be helped... may the rabbit not be burnt black...”

I threw the whole rabbit into the fire,
I worried for a moment when the flames rose up.

“Heyhey please! Show your spirit rabbit-samaaaaaaa.”

I continued praying while moderately adjusting the fire.

A few minutes later.

The space began to be filled with the pleasant smell of the roasted meat.

“Oooh! This is sufficient isn’t it! It’s fine!
I’ll take it out... how do I take this out...”

I didn’t think about taking it out...
Even I think it’s absurd to put my hand inside the fire...
Sorry but I don’t want to be burned.

“What to do... no other way... I’ll have to somehow take it out with a long branch.”

Several minutes later I somehow managed to get it out.

“I was able to do it somehow.
There was a little delay so it’s burnt here and there, rather it’s worth celebrating that the whole thing isn’t burnt.
Now then... meat-chan’s matter.”

Gulp It seems very delicious, the steam coming out of the just roasted body, the smell is outstandingly pleasant as well!
It’s a smell like roasted beef!

“This... I can’t endure...”

I couldn’t endure and bit into the body, the juice from the meat flows into my mouth the moment I bit, it’s just right, not being too tough or too soft,
this guy...

“Delicioooooooooooooooooous!!!!
What is this! While I may have been hungry, this might be the best tasting thing I’ve eaten up till now!!!”

I continue being absorbed in eating.

After a few minutes

Only the bones are remaining, everything was eaten.

“Haaaaaaaaa, that was really goooood,
Papugo is also delicious but meat is something else!
It’s like the taste reinvigorated my whole body!
This would go for a good amount if bought and sold in my former world.”

It’s at the level where me as a shut-in would go buy it, the taste should be understood, this might actually be the first time since coming to the different world that I’m deeply moved!

“Kuu, I’m already satisfied with today, my stomach is full, the only thing to be done is put out the fire and sleep...”

Okay then, how to put out the fire,
if water could be used however...

“Like this... Aqua! Is how I say! ...”

The next moment water downpours from above the fire with a splaaash, the quantity seems to be about one bucket,
the fire completely went out.

“..... I did it.”

Chapter 15 – Knife

“...Hn ...it’s morning.”

That water magic? Though I was concerned with it, it wasn’t possible to escape the attacking drowsiness from a full stomach...

“So I fell asleep~ ...Hmm, well I’m awake now.”

It’s already become bright outside the cave,
I seem to have slept for a considerable time.

“Well it’s fine, since I’m up I should also pick some papugos since I have to hunt rabbits.”

I’m relatively pleased with my life in this cave, there’s completely no thoughts of escaping the forest...

“Breakfast first.”

I take two papugos out of the Item Box for breakfast and start eating.

“Hmm, papugos are also good after all~
But what about the water from yesterday’s end,
I think it’s magic... I’ll check it after I’m done eating.”

After no more than five minutes the two papugos are fitted in my stomach.

“Splendid! Let’s have a look then, status open.”

Hmm... there’s also the Cooking skill, is it because of yesterday, I doubt whether that can be called cooking...
Fire Magic goes up to level 2,
is there new magic with the level increasing,
or has the Fire Magic’s power simply increased, I need to experiment next time.
After that... there’s the Chef title, well that’s a change.
Come to think of it, Item Box rose to level 2 so the capacity should increase.
How much has it increased, I’ll have to judge, Judgment!”

{Item Box}

A skill where various things can be stored.

As a general rule, living things cannot be stored, however when those living things are already dead, they can be stored without a problem.

The storage capacity is proportional to MP, additionally, when Item Box’s level goes up the capacity will increase.

It's currently possible to store equal to twice the maximum MP value.

“Hou, it suddenly became twice my MP!
In other words, my MP is 150 now,
so I can store double for the equivalent of 300!
Amazing, it seems there'll be no problems with the Item Box's capacity for now.”

Now then, what to do...
should I sleep...

“... No, stop it! I came to another world with much trouble, no matter how comfortable I might be in this cave, being so sluggish will be completely the same as the former world!
Accepting God's transfer, I should change a little...”

Having said that there's not much to actually do, and the end result of me thinking of this and that...

“It's inevitable; I'll go hunt rabbits again, they're easy kills, my level goes up and they taste good...
okay... and go.”

I'm now outside with what's necessary,
I was about to put the worn-out knife in my pocket, then,

“Hn? Were there such cracks on this knife, well it is worn-out, it's surely my mistake~”

I had such uneasy thoughts and poked the cracks several times with my finger for some reason,
thereupon in the next moment,

Craaack

With a loud sound, my favored knife broke into pieces.

Chapter 16 – Parting

...In front of me is the scattered pieces of knife-kun who was my only weapon...

What happened isn't understood for a moment, after a few minutes, I was staring at the knife fragments...

And a few minutes after that, my feelings have calmed down a little.

"Seriously, I didn't think it would break, no, if I think about it, the knife was already worn-out when I picked it up, and I fought about 30 rabbits from then, perhaps it's not strange for it to break... or rather, it's somewhat preferable to not have broken in the middle of a fight."

I can't help but feel down.

I take out grass from the Item Box and place it over the knife's remains, and furthermore, one papugo is added.

"This looks like a grave, thank you worn-out knife, I don't know if I could survive without you."

...Okay, the knife's matter is finished with this, see you!

Now to think of what's next.

"...What about a weapon..."

That's right, only the weapon has broken.

"I can still attack with magic for the time being, Fireball has wonderful power, it can probably instantly kill a rabbit with a blow."

Now that I think about it, what happens with magic when Sign Isolation is used, will the magic also not be seen, or will only the magic be seen, I should experiment with the rabbits this time.

“Before that is this sharp tree branch, it’s honestly a bit dodgy as a weapon, it seems like it might break before piercing into the other party.”

But I’m still a bit nervous not having a main weapon, for the sake of Sign Isolation I can’t just continuously to use magic, so it’s come to this after all...

“This forest... I have to leave it...”

It’s probably the only method I have, for a weapon to conveniently be dropped in such a place, it likely won’t happen anymore, so it’s become necessary to go to a village or town to procure the needed weapon.

“Haa... but I really am pleased with this cave... Well it can’t be helped; it’s for the sake of the future, okay, since it’s decided I’ll go at once.”

All things needed are placed in the Item Box, and I left the cave.

Walking for a little while, I reached the usual spot.

“Fuu... I should take a short break.”

I was a little tired from walking, only a little though, but I decided to have a rest, a papugo is torn off from the greenery overhead, and it’s bitten.

“Delicious... a stable taste.”

While resting, the thought floated to mind on which direction to go from here.

If I remember correctly, when the papugos were judged before, it was said to be a fruit which grows near the entrance of the forest. So the forest’s exit shouldn’t be far from here.

While thinking so, I heard something like the voice of a person coming from ahead in the forest.

“I can hear something approaching... this is... a person’s voice?
It seems to be running away from something, but I can’t hear it in detail.”

Should I hide first and have a look...
If they’re running from a monster, then sorry but just run on through.

A short time later there was a lone wounded man with a tough looking face.
While looking, two thin men have jumped with force into the place in front, the three people’s attire isn’t that of a villager... no matter how I think, the blood on the clothes here and there is on my mind...

After a little bit, the conversation of these three could be heard.

“Haahaa... Aniki! We managed to escape somehow!”

“Aah, it’s safe here for the time being, we can’t be chased so easily inside a forest!”

“But we really were unlucky this time!
I’d never think the village we attacked would have such a strong adventurer...”

“Yeah, a guy of that strength might be B rank,
Sabu and Abu were late in running away and we’re killed by that guy!
Only us being able to get away is satisfactory.”

Hmm... from these remarks it seems these guys attacked a village... is it thieves?

I’ll judge it just to be sure,
first is that most proud looking guy, Judgment.

But this Ghil guy, he has a skill and title I don’t know,
Falcon Eyes, it’s likely eyesight compensation to improve them... it’s a good skill.
The Hunter title, I don’t understand this,
but it’s fine since I generally understand the information.

“Now then... information verification has ended, so...”

What to do about these guys.

“I likely... won’t be defeated by these guys, there’s a big difference in status, my weapon is a sharp tree branch and magic.
There’s a difference in the number of people, but it’s not really a problem in front of Sign Isolation, and I wanted to test out magic during Sign Isolation.
I only have to escape if it becomes dangerous, my speed is considerably higher.

“But Aniki, there’s a lot of papugos here, we’re so lucky!”

“Yeah! To discover such a thing as soon as entering the forest,
I thought our luck was up when we met that in the village,
but our devil’s luck is still going strong!
Let’s quickly eat papugos to recover HP then get out of here!”

“Yes Aniki!”

Hmm, these guys intend to have a food rest,
this is a chance.

These guys who attacked a village,
it may be easy to hear talk of this if going to the village.
The question is, kill or don’t kill...

There’s still some resistance to the act of killing for me who grew up in an honest and peaceful world.

“Well these guys are thieves, it seems inevitable for them to be killed I think, if you don't want to be killed, don't become a thief."

Now then, I have to prepare for what will happen, first is confirming my MP... It's a full tank, there're 150 seconds of Sign Isolation with this,
that's if magic isn't made use of...
in my left hand will be a sharp tree branch for my Item Box, this is for if my Fireball isn't able to kill them.
And Sign Isolation is used, with this they won't see my form anymore.

"...Let's do it."

I jumped out of the grassy place in one go.

"Fireball!"

A big fireball the size of a bowling ball appears in my palm,
but the thieves don't have any indication of noticing it,
I imagine it flying at high speed and shot it.

As a result, the fireball flies at the speed of an ordinary bullet.

"Wh... wha....."

It looks like the fireball was noticed the moment it left my hand, but it's too late.

"Guaaaaaaaaa!!!!!!"

The fireball hits Raldo's face... and burst,
Raldo's body is destroyed by the fire above the neck and falls down, twitching for a few seconds it no longer moves.

"Uo... this is quite disgusting."

So the moment it separated from my body it came to be recognized.

"A... Aniki!!!"

"Wh, it's magic! Where'd it come from?!!"

The remaining two still seem to have not noticed me,
let's do a little different test this time...

First, I make a fireball in the same was as just now, it isn't made to fly and I rapidly approach one of the two remaining until I came in front of him but he still hasn't noticed.

And then I grab hold of the guy's face with my palm as it is, the fireball is pressed against the other party's face.

"Gyaaaaaaaaaaaaahothothoooooooooot."

I move away leaving only the fireball.

"Burst."

Above the person's neck is missing in the same way as Raldo.

Hmm, I seem to be able to adjust the timing of the burst, quite convenient.

"Wh...! Ghil! What's happening, damn it!
To die like this, aaaah!"

Left alone, Yosak who saw the tragic appearance of the two suddenly runs away desperately.

It's understandable, seeing his two comrades become like that in an instant, I guess it's impossible to not be in disorder.

However

"Well I'm sorry to say but I don't intend to let you go."

A fireball is made again in my palm as earlier,
Is it my imagination but it seems bigger than before, it seems large for just one person.

"Such a size, well it fine."

I aim at the back of the man who is running desperately.

"Fly!"

"Gaaaaaaaaaaaaa."

The fireball flew at the speed of a cannon and hit splendidly, the man named Yosak is hit and writhes in agony from the heat.

And then

“Burst.”

What was Yosak is now completely changed into a piece of meat.

“Fuu... finished.”

Chapter 18 – Spoils of War

“Fuu... so almost no feelings of guilt are welling up after all, perhaps I’ve changed when coming to a different world. Whatever, or rather, I’m thankful when thinking so, and how many times it will be such a situation after this is unknown. Now then, let’s check what’s happened with my MP.”

“45 MP was used, three fireballs used 15 MP, so 30 MP was used for Sign Isolation, it’s a good performance.

My level didn't rise with this battle, though it was a little expected.

Fire Magic went up a level instead, it seems to now be possible for multiple fireballs simultaneously. Being able to do such a longed for technique, I'll have to try it sometime.

Other than that... nothing's changed.

Well, this time was only for understanding the arrangement of Sign Isolation and magic, magic can be seen the moment it separates from my body, it's regrettable, but it's still a considerable cheat with it not being seen when it hasn't left my body. But Sign Isolation is still level 8, so it doesn't mean it can't be the case later on."

Finishing the status verification, I turn my eyes to the thieves' remains, yeah, it's disgusting...

Well that's what happens when a fireball that size bursts at zero distance.

"I'll first take the thieves' weapons, hee, there's a splendid variety... oh! There're four knives, and the four of them are usable, I'll judge them."

Judgement.

{Copper Knife}

A very ordinary knife, sharpness is normal.

Hmm, there's three copper knives, they seem pretty solid and the usability seems good, the last one... oh!

{Silver Knife}

A considerably superior knife, is sharp and also long-lasting.

"This guy's a winner! My main weapon is this silver knife from now and the remaining knives will be kept for emergency use!"

Only the silver knife is carried on my body, the remaining three copper knives are stored in the Item Box.

"After that is two copper swords and 3 throwing knives. One throwing knife is kept on me and the rest moved to the Item Box, the copper swords aren't really something I can use now, so they're put in the Item Box to sell somewhere."

Then there's something which looks like money,
I'll judge them.

{Copper Coin}

Low-rank currency, ten copper coins equal one silver coin.

{Silver Coin}

Mid-rank currency, ten silver coins equal one gold coin.

"I see, so this is the structure. These guys were carrying 18 copper coins and one silver coin.

I don't understand how much this is worth but I'll take them."

If this is the village's money then my credibility will go up if it's returned...

"Okay, these guys were carrying things usable to such a degree,
there were very useful things, especially the silver knife,
Well now... now it's the problem... what to do with these guys..."

The beautifully bursted guy who was called Yosak is left behind.
The remaining ones are the corpses of Raldo and Ghil with nothing above the neck, if these guys' names are well known then there might be a reward, but as long as their status is seen, they don't seem to be great thieves...

"Hmm, what to do, it's out of the question to carry them on my shoulder as it is, then can they enter the Item Box, they're already dead so they can enter."

In the end I decided to take the two bodies as they're proof that the thieves were killed, and the two easily entered the Item Box.

"Things of this size can enter normally, just what is happening in the Item Box~"

Now I want to recover the MP which was used.

"As expected, I don't have the boldness to eat papugos here...
come to think of it, they said they ran away from a village, so I should walk in the direction these guys came from to leave the forest."

Okay then, what needs to be done here has been completed.

“If I’m not mistaken, the direction these guys ran from... that way, I’ll go that way for now.”

I began to walk after coming to such a conclusion while praying to God that this forest can be exited safely.

Since weapons were obtained, there wasn’t much of a need for leaving the forest, but don’t worry about it.
